Fred Kinrade, Aged Carpenter of Antioch, Dead

Succumbs to Injuries When Struck by Car; Was 72 Years Old

Fred Kinrade, 72, one of Antioch's oldest active carpenters, died Friday evening of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile as he was walking southward on Route 21-83 at the north village limit, at 5:56 p. m.

Kinrade had just left the Antioch Packing company plant, where he had been discussing plans for some carpenter work, and it is believed that, engrossed in his thoughts, he may have failed to notice the approach of the car that struck him.

The driver, Edward C. Dunford, 17, a student at Antioch Township High school, was absolved of blame at a coroner's inquest conducted by Coroner John L. Taylor Friday morning at 10 o'clock in Strang's funeral home.

Dunford, who had been driving north, stated that he did not see Kinrade in time to stop, because of the glare from headlights of southbound cars. Aware from the impact that he had struck someone or something, he immediately halted his car and summoned help from the packing plant.

Kinrade, who was dazed, but apparently not unconscious, was removed to his home, but succumbed to internal injuries and shock shortly afterward. He is believed to have been struck by the fender and bumper of Dunford's car.

Dunford, who is employed as janitor at a theatre in the village after his class hours at the high school, was on his way to supper at Cross Lake, where he is staying temporarily, when the accident occurred.

Born in Antioch
Kinrade was born in Antioch on what is known as the "Kaye farm" and lived in this community all his life.

On Jan. 6, 1897, he was united in marriage with Emma Lightner, at Salem, Wis.

Survivors include his wife, their two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Mrs. Vera Wells of Mundelein, and their son, Ralph, of Antioch.

The Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church, officiated at funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Strang Funeral home. Burial was in Liberty Corners cemetery.

Mrs. William Kalal and Mrs. J. Sebesta of Berwyn sang at the funeral. The songs and music were a tribute to Kinrade from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrovsky, owners of the packing plant, where Kinrade had done carpentry work over a period of 15 years.

LEGION NEWS

by
Adjutant John L. Horan

Now that our country is at war it is the hope that all the veterans in the community consider joining the Legion. It matters not at this time what differences may have come up following the Milwaukee Legion convention, now is the time to join and be united. The Legion officers place a great deal of stress on the veterans getting into the Legion so as to be posted on what our government is doing in a military way.

Although much of the information handed out is not fully in accord with certain activities that are carried on daily, who should know better in how to view this information in the light of reasonable thinking than the veterans of the World War?

Commander Roman Vos of the Antioch Legion Post stated to the News this week, "Now that the people of this country are expected to unite in a strong front in support of the present activities taken over by our government, it is only fair to expect the veterans of the World War to place themselves first in the communities in keeping order and 'carry on' in the various branches of the vast program that is necessary in the time of war. Figures show that it takes seventeen persons to place a soldier in line for combat service, and this means that the more men who are enlisted into the military service, the more men, women and children will have to be a part of the great show with only one thought in mind—our country 'first'."

Commander Vos further stated that "It is wise that the veterans of the community use their best judgment in discussing the present conflict, as it is only fair to expect any veterans of the World War to have many answers to certain questionable problems of today's conflict. As the World War was twenty-three years ago and the present war is in no way being fought (continued on page 5)

Stores to be Open Evenings, Starting Mon.

Commencing Monday evening, Dec. 15, most of the stores in Antioch will be open evenings, up to 9 o'clock, until Christmas.

County Organizes Crews for Defense

Volunteers Guard Against Sabotage; Rescue Squads Are Instructed

Preliminary steps toward the speedy organization of volunteers to perform extra war-time police and fire department duties in Lake county, and the organization and co-ordination of rescue squads was launched on a county-wide scale Tuesday night in Waukegan by the local defense commission.

An immediate appeal was made for volunteer workers to be on the alert for saboteurs and fifth columnists. Officials are anxious that no undue alarm be spread among residents and have pointed out that the local problem is that of protecting property. Less than half a dozen Japanese aliens have been found in the county, however it is from these fifth column residents least suspected that are most likely to cause destruction, officials said.

Rescue Squad Responds
Anxious to test out the speed with which help in emergencies could be expected, a call was sent for Antioch's Red Cross Rescue squad at 9:22. Just 22 minutes later the Antioch crew with all equipment and seven crew members arrived at Central station in Waukegan.

North Shore population and factory centers are most vulnerable to attack by saboteurs, Defense commissioners said, pointing out that 40 or more residents of the Antioch community are employed daily in manufacturing plants along the lake shore.

Legion Co-operates
More than 42,000 American Legionnaires are now acting as voluntary aides of the F. B. I. throughout the country. So far, the F. B. I. has contacted 5,000 Legion posts seeking qualified auxiliary operatives, and 6,000 more posts are on the list for solicitation during the early months.

MRS. BERT RAY HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Mrs. Bert Ray suffered severe cuts and bruises in an auto collision Friday night at Washington and Jackson streets in Waukegan when the car driven by her husband was struck by an auto driven by Cecil Atkinson of Waukegan. She was taken to a hospital for treatment. Her injuries were not serious.

Atkinson, witnesses said, was trying to "make" the intersection when the lights were changing. The Ray car was struck broadside and Mrs. Ray was partly thrown from the car. The Ray car was almost totally wrecked.

How "Country Doctor" Chose Service Rather than Fame Is Told by Friend

(How the late Dr. Winsor W. Warriner chose the career of "country doctor" where he could befriend and aid his neighbors rather than become a "name" physician and consultant, is graphically told in the following eulogy submitted by Paul J. Wenigman, life-long friend of Dr. Warriner.)

In 1901 Dr. J. B. Murphy, at the height of his fame, was in full sway at Rush Medical College, now the medical school of Northwestern University. He had just invented the "Murphy Button" and was acclaimed internationally as the greatest surgeon of his time.

A young man in the class of 1903 to graduate two years later attracted his attention, first by his devotion to the study of medicine, and secondly by his strict adherence to ideas entirely different at that time to the majority of medical students. No fantastic jamborees, no wild alcoholic parties and no coarse jokes with parts of the human anatomy engaged young Winsor Warriner selected by Dr. Murphy.

For two years he was Dr. Murphy's assistant, and, probably the great doctor's fame might rest a little on what his disciple had ferreted out for his master's analysis.

Too quickly Winsor graduated. Dr. Murphy, with all the persuasion that a famous man has, begged, beseeched and entreated that Winsor stay at Rush and eventually become a "name" physician and consultant. Backed by a real love for his profession, the young man declined and announced that he would like the general practice in a typical American locality. So he picked Antioch.

At that time the elderly Dr. Ames

McMillen Given 1st Lieutenant's Rating in Navy

To Report for Duty Dec. 29 as Athletic Director at Navy Pier

James McMillen received his commission Monday as a first lieutenant in the U. S. Naval reserve, and has been appointed director of recreation and athletics at Navy pier, Chicago.

He has been instructed to report for active duty on or before Dec. 29. Although his commission did not come through until this week, McMillen had been asked to look over the athletic and recreational facilities at the Pier some time ago, and has been busy during the past weeks getting them organized.

Graduate of Illinois University
McMillen was an honors graduate at the University of Illinois, where he specialized in the study of engineering. It was at Illinois that he began the career that brought him fame as an athlete. He is vice-president of the Chicago Bears football team.

He has taken his own wrestling ring, previously on loan to Antioch High school, down to the pier and has checked over other equipment.

A number of other well known figures in the sports world have joined the U. S. armed forces.

Bob Feller, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, enlisted in the navy yesterday. He was sworn in at the Chicago post office headquarters by Lieut. Comm. Gene Tunney.

Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tigers slugger, was recently released from the army when men over 28 were permitted to leave the selective training service, but says he plans to re-enter.

Only minor damages resulted when an oil stove was overturned on the floor at Dad's Shady Inn at Channel Lake Sunday afternoon. Occupants of the tavern succeeded in subduing the flames before the arrival of the Antioch fire department, for which a hurry call had been put in.

was the doctor. Young Winsor had a tough time. He was too young and he looked too young. Despite the extensive training at Rush who would consider the callow youth against the seasoned veteran who has served so many years in the service of humanity. Anyhow, emergencies arose. The young doctor quickly showed that he knew what it was all about. Shortly after what was known as a man who was better than most, and if you just did not have the money at the time, that was not a matter to interfere with Dr. Warriner's full discharge of his duty, and the young doctor was either very capable or very lucky. In later years he said he was lucky. After the elaborate equipment at Rush he performed far more startling operations on a kitchen table than he ever did among the glistening array of equipment at his beloved alma mater.

The young doctor prospered. After a while he started to look for a mate with the same idealism that he possessed. He found her, Edna McVey of Camp Lake, and it was the halcyon days for the couple. Two children were born, and we all know the Warriner girls galloping down the Antioch lanes the very epitome of health and well being.

Years went along. To occupy leisure time Dr. Warriner became a real estate developer. He succeeded as he did in everything and to time immemorial his name will be carried on in records of Lake County.

A good man, a good friend, good to all, and a merciful God will be good to him.

Antioch Roll Call Totals $254 for Am. Red Cross

Committee Gives Report on Red Cross Work in Community

In the recent roll call for the annual Red Cross drive Antioch did a splendid job. Every effort was put forth to contact every man, woman and child within the village to have them sign up for the $1.00 membership. With the village divided into sections and volunteer ladies making a house to house canvass resulting in a total collection of $254.00.

As all Red Cross work comes under the volunteer set-up, the results sometimes are not fully completed, making a house to house canvass and not finding people at home is tiresome work and as the time is limited in making collections, persons missed in the canvass should send their membership to the central office in Waukegan.

In checking with Mrs. John Horan this week the News was given the following information as to progress made in preparing articles for the Red Cross:

Back in February 1941, Mrs. William Marks called on Mrs. Horan to assist in Red Cross and later was placed in charge of Antioch, although no special effort was put forth during the summer months in asking for other women to assist as most of the women asked for work on a volunteer basis and up to date knitted articles that have been delivered are:

Twenty-four children's sweaters, 2 child's suits, 2 ladies' sweaters and a muffler. The infants' articles for layettes were 18 baby binnings, 11 bonnets, 6 pairs of booties, 18 dozen diapers, 25 dresses, 8 pairs of socks, 8 slips, 6 sleepers and 12 pairs of mittens. Mrs. Marks and Mrs. Horan are more than pleased with the results and now that our country has entered the serious conflict it will be necessary as stated by Horan to the News this week that a scheduled work program, a complete list of volunteer workers with a general headquarters arranged for in order to meet the situation before a general emergency has been declared. Mrs. Horan is asking through the aid of the Antioch News for the women of the community who wish to volunteer their services for Red Cross work to call at 407 Orchard street or telephone Antioch 140-J.

New Grayslake Bank Will Open Saturday

Grayslake's new banking institution, the First State Bank of Grayslake, will open for business this Saturday, Dec. 13.

The bank is capitalized at $50,000, a surplus of $10,000 and a reserve of $5,000.

The opening day is to be featured, the officers say, "With a hearty welcome to all and red carnations for the ladies."

"Bringing the school into the community and the community into the school" was the general theme upon which Mrs. Kathleen Ammerman, principal of Central school, Glencoe, addressed 25 members of local "Section 2" of the Illinois Educational association at a meeting in the Roundup restaurant, last Tuesday evening.

First prize will be $15, second $10 and third $5.

The club also suggested that individual business concerns in the village have lighted Christmas trees in front of their establishments, and most of the business firms have already announced their intention of cooperating with this plan.

The Lions plan to sponsor the broadcasting of Christmas music over a loudspeaker system, starting Monday.

At a meeting of a special committee of the club in the Antioch Lumber and Coal company offices, the organization of a Scout troop under the Lions' sponsorship was completed.

Twenty boys were enrolled. William S. Brook was named as scoutmaster, Henry Quadenfeld and Dr. William J. Gay as assistant scoutmasters, and Roman Vos, Herman Holbek and Robert King members of the board of directors.

Bartlett, Fire Chief Lew Van Patten, Rescue Squad Captain Herman Holbek, A. Simon of Pickard, Inc., and Ed F. Vos, president of the Antioch Lumber and Coal company.

The colonel was world war intelligence officer, and former chief of staff of the 33rd division, Illinois National Guard, and is civilian aid for the secretary of war in the 6th corps area.

Immediately upon his appointment yesterday, Col. Gowenlock called the state wide meeting of federal, state, county and city law enforcement officers, heads of industries and representatives of rescue organizations. He said a plan had been perfected for state and federal cooperation in defense, and it was to apprise the various localities of the plans that the meeting is being held today.

Highland Park Doctor Addresses Grade P.T.A.

"Vitamins and Defense" was the subject upon which Dr. M. D. McNeil of Highland Park addressed the Antioch Grade School P. T. A. at a meeting Monday evening in the school house.

The chances are, Dr. McNeil informed his listeners, that if a person is eating three good meals a day, with a well-rounded diet, he is getting the needed amount of vitamins.

The P. T. A. voted to sponsor a tuberculosis test for the grade school children and also to purchase a tuberculosis bond.

Mrs. H. E. Hufendick reported on the P. T. A. council, Mrs. A. P. Bratrude on legislation and Mrs. D. N. Deering on health work of the P. T. A.

Songs by the fifth grade girls, and community singing led by a chorus of seventh and eighth grade girls completed the program, which was followed with the serving of refreshments.

Volunteers Fight Fire

In many communities volunteer auxiliary fire fighting forces are being trained and established. That should be done now by every town in the nation.

These groups can serve two highly important purposes. First, they will be able to render assistance to the regular fire departments. In times such as the present, fire is a real disaster. We must keep our factory wheels turning for defense. We must preserve our materials and labor for defense. Shortages and priority restrictions make the replacement of burned homes and other buildings extremely difficult and, in some cases, absolutely impossible.

Second, these auxiliary fire fighting forces will be vitally needed if war from the air ever comes to this country. We all hope that won't happen, and at the present time no enemy is in a position to attack us. But times change fast, and the development of long-range bombers both here and abroad narrows the oceans and the continents. London was saved by volunteer fire wardens who had to learn their jobs under the most difficult conditions. History may yet tell what towns and cities in the New World were saved by fire fighters, no less than towns and cities in the Old.

There is a place in defense for everyone. And fire protection is one of the most vital of defense activities.

Something queer about that sample family budget of the home economics bureau. It only adds up to 100 per cent of expenses.

The Banks Work Overtime

In this national emergency, the number and the extent of the problems that banking must face, are almost limitless.

Upon the banks fall the job of financing a large part of defense activity—and at the same time keeping ordinary business going on as nearly normal a basis as possible. The banks have been the primary sellers and promoters of Defense Bonds and Stamps—a work, incidentally, which returns absolutely no profit to them, and reduces their individual deposits. The banks must accurately advise individuals and businesses who are confused by the swift changes that take place when a great nation switches from a peace-time to a war-time basis of doing business. The banks must help enforce the new installment loan restrictions. And the banks play a major part, in cooperation with the Treasury, in the immensely complicated matter of freezing foreign credits.

This is but part of the job. No industry is more important to the successful progress of the nation than banking. And banking has been doing its work superbly well. There has been no delay in providing money for any necessary activity. The highest government officials have praised the banks for their cooperation. This is one reason why there have been no important financial bottlenecks in the way of defense.

So, again, private banking proves its worth and its efficiency. It did much to build this nation. It is doing much to protect it now.

Speaking of spirit, what about the panhandler who approached a passerby and begged, "Mister, can you spare a dime so I can buy a defense stamp and help do my part in national defense?"

If Adolf Hitler still doesn't believe the old adage that it's a long lane that has no turning let him visit a spiritualist medium and talk to Napoleon.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

LESSON TEXT—II Corinthians 8:1-9;

GOLDEN TEXT—It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.—I Corinthians 4:2.

The Christmas season, when there is so much thought about gifts, is a most appropriate time for a lesson on Christian giving. Dr. John Willis Baer was once asked: "How can we raise money for foreign missions?" Quick as a flash, he answered: "Don't raise it, give it." "If all believers could come to a true knowledge of what the New Testament teaches regarding giving, and would seriously put this knowledge into practice, the Christian church could advance more in the next 10 years than it has advanced in any 50 years in its history" (Wilbur M. Smith).

I. An Example of Liberty (8:1-5).

For some reason people are overly sensitive when one speaks of money. The subject must be approached tactfully, so Paul skillfully directs the attention of the Corinthian church to their fellow Christians in Macedonia. They had been in great affliction and were in "deep poverty" (v. 2), but out of their sorrow and want they gave far above Paul's expectation (v. 5) and "beyond their power," and then pleaded with Paul that he should let them give more. The explanation is found in verse 5, where we learn that they had first given "their own selves to the Lord," and then in loving co-operation with Paul himself, as the Lord's agent, in this matter of the offering.

Is it not strange that those who suffer most for the gospel and have the least to give are the most generous in their giving. Those to whom the gospel has come easily who bear no special burdens for Christ, and who are well situated financially, are commonly the most stingy with their money. Could it be that they have not really given themselves to the Lord? One wonders.

II. An Exhortation to Faithfulness (8:6-9).

Apparently the Corinthians had made a promise or pledge to give for the poor at Jerusalem, but had become a bit forgetful and negligent. It seems to be so easy to neglect to keep up a pledge for the Lord's work. Some folk even feel that they cannot make a pledge. They pledge to pay their rent, to make payments on a car, or a washing machine; but to the church they just can't pledge, or if they do, the promise is often neglected. Such things are dishonoring to the name of Christ.

As they abound in other graces (v. 7), Paul exhorts the Corinthians to abound in "this grace also." So giving is a Christian grace! And why not? Consider Christ (v. 9), who left the glory He had with the Father and came to the poverty of the One who had not where to lay His head, that we through Him might be eternally rich.

Christian friend, when that truth lays hold of your heart and life your purse strings will loosen, your check book will open more easily, you will gladly give—for Christ's sake.

III. A Principle of Christian Giving (9:6).

The harvest is always in proportion to the sowing of the seed. The man who is stingy with his seed at sowing time will reap that kind of a harvest. The opposite is also true.

It works in the field of business too. The merchant who gives the fullest return for one's money and the most liberal measure of service is bound to prosper, while the stingy one is left to lament the fact that his goods rot on his shelves.

In the spiritual realm it is even more true. But, someone may say, we ought not to do good that we may profit by it. No real Christian will give just that he may prosper, but, mark it well, if he does give for Christ's sake and His glory, God will prosper him. "You can't beat God giving."

IV. The Spirit of Christian Stewardship (9:7).

Our giving is to be done according to the purpose of our heart—not grudgingly, nor with grief, nor yet by compulsion, because someone put on pressure.

God loves a cheerful or (as it may be translated) hilarious giver. When done in the right spirit, giving for Christ can be one of the happiest experiences of the Christian life. Let's make offering time in our church services the most joyful time in the meeting. Then we shall be liberal as well as cheerful in this grace of stewardship.

Faith in Christ

"Martha said, 'Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.' Of all the true disciples of Christ this may with perfect confidence be said, 'He is here, therefore they shall not die.' Faith causes Christ to be present in the heart; and where Christ is, eternal death cannot be." —Dean Howson.

Music Study Group Meets

The recently formed study group which consists of piano pupils of Georgia Ray Drury met at the studio on Tuesday afternoon. The group discussed Mrs. Drury's review of a book on the musical life of Marian Anderson, which was written by her accompanist, Kosti Vehanen. A recording of "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child" sung by Miss Anderson, was played. The fascinating rhythms, the melancholy and depressing melodies of the negro music were emphasized.

"Deep River," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" and the happy "All God's Children Got Wings" were among the spirituals which were sung by the group at the close of the session.

At the next meeting on December 23rd, the origin and history of Christmas carols will be given by Verna Mae Kufalk after which Mrs. Drury will entertain the pupils with a Christmas party.

WAR AND CHRISTIANITY

In view of present world conditions, and especially recent developments in our own international relations, WHAT HAS CHRISTIANITY TO SAY? This will be the theme of the morning address at Antioch Methodist Church next Sunday, Dec. 14, 1941. To think clearly, calmly, soberly, constructively, and to act wisely as individuals and as a Christian community, is possible only by Divine help. We invite all God-fearing, liberty-loving people to worship with us regularly. The spiritual strength of our nation must keep pace with its material development. Spiritual victory must accompany military victory or all is lost. Regardless of race or creed we invite you to make our church your church.

Warren C. Henslee, Minister.

SEAL SALE DRIVE MAY SURPASS 1940, SECRETARY SAYS

Miss Orpha L. White, Executive Secretary of the Lake County Tuberculosis association, reports $4086.60 received from the annual Christmas Seal Sale the first eight days of the sale. Receipts the last three days have been growing smaller in volume, but the Association hopes the first of next week the mail will increase in size. The total amount received from the 1940 Seal Sale was $11,006.08, with Lake county ranking third in the state outside of Cook county. The Seal Sale committee is hopeful of surpassing last year's total, and at least reach second place in the state, and perhaps, even first place. First place was won by Peoria county last year with a margin of $900 over Lake county.

The Seal Sale committee will meet in the office of the Association Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock P. M. to promote further plans for the success of the Seal sale.

A battlefield, not where lives are lost, but where lives are saved is the story of tuberculosis. It is a war against one of the deadliest enemies of mankind which today killed 170 persons in the United States alone—according to statistics 170 more will fall tomorrow, mostly between the ages of 15 and 45.

Antioch Grade school will close for the Christmas holidays Friday afternoon, Dec. 19, and will reopen on Jan. 5. Programs for parents will be staged by the pupils in each room on the afternoon of the 19th.

Ravenglen Farmhand Dies Of Monoxide Poison Gas

Accidental carbon monoxide gas poisoning was blamed for the death some time Monday of Ernest Voss, 65, of Burlington, Wis., who was employed at the Ravenglen farm on Route 173.

His body was found in his car in a garage on the farm by Andrew Magiera, caretaker, who started a search of the farm buildings when Voss failed to appear for breakfast.

Legion Notes.....

as the war of 1917-18 was, it seems that the best way for a veteran to do is to make no statement in public unless he is an authority on the subject, and still this is not a good thing where one has to deal with a confused public." Commander Vos asks that the veterans in the community "sit tight" and wait until such time as the authorities having the national defense program in hand have declared an emergency, and when this time comes the veterans will be ready as they know how to "stand guard, eat beans and sleep with their socks on."

Adjutant John Horan of the Antioch Legion Post states that membership is still rolling in and the figure now is 85. This leaves 25 to reach the 100% mark of the 110 quota of 1941.

Some important dates for the Legion members to bear in mind are:

The regular meeting of Antioch post will be held on Dec. 18. This meeting is important, as a check-up on the Sons of the American Legion membership for 1942 will be looked over by Legion members at their meeting before the meeting of Legionnaires.

On Dec. 18, the annual Christmas party will be held at Hospital 105, Downey, Ill.

On Dec. 19, the Tenth district will meet at Waukegan for its monthly business session. This meeting is very important to all Legionnaires of Lake county as Arthur (Jack) G. Poorman will address them on matters of state legislation—and what Legionnaire does not live to hear "Jack"?

A call has been sent out to the Auxiliary units of the 10th district for assistance in wrapping gifts at Hospital 105, Downey, on Dec. 16, from 9:30 A. M. on.

One of the main features of Legion membership drive is the Christmas stockings sent out to the posts in the Tenth district. These stockings are to be returned with 1942 Legion cards and sent to the department commander at Peoria, Ill. Also in connection with this drive District Commander Prizer will feed turkey to the Legionnaires on the head of the list of the various posts in the district that have reached 100% by December 24. Fox Lake, Gurnee and North Chicago are at present 100%.

ATTENTION, WORLD WAR VETERANS

All world war veterans living in the community of Antioch and coming under the jurisdiction of Antioch Post No. 748, American Legion, Department of Illinois, who at this time wish to assign themselves for work on the national defense program, should register at the Illinois Employment office in Waukegan at 312 West Water street. The officers of the post have not at present received any orders from department headquarters, except that all veterans "sit tight" and await any working plans that are to be sent out.

John L. Horan,
Post Adjutant.

Feeling the Christmas Spirit

DURING THE Christmas season one sometimes hears the plaintive question, "How can I feel and enter into the Christmas spirit when my own affairs and the lives of others seem so troubled?"

Sincere self-searching often uncovers the errors which claim to hinder joyous participation in this happy, holy season. The individual may be deploring his inability to give generously. Memories of other Christmas seasons, which were happy and gay before family ties were broken, may rise to depress a lonely one. Others may be so concerned about persons and things that Christmas has for them no sacred significance. The earnest Christian needs to ask himself: "Why is this? Is happiness at Christmas time dependent upon a material sense of things? Are human modes of giving and receiving so important as to affect true joy?"

The longing to feel and fulfill the true spirit of Christmas is surely blessed by our heavenly Father. The quiet contemplation of the spiritual episodes which preceded and followed the first Christmas Day, lifts thought above an apathetic endurance of human necessities. Nothing can dim the spiritual beauty and power of the Scriptural narrative of the nativity, as given in the Gospels of Matthew and Luke. Again and again, the Christian student is impressed by the boundless joy which was felt by those whose spiritual sense discerned the fulfillment of divine prophecy in this great event. The Wisemen, who saw and followed the star in the east, "rejoiced with exceeding great joy" (Matthew 2:10). And when they found the infant Jesus they fell at his feet, and offered him precious gifts. Watchful shepherds, who were tending their flocks on the Judean countryside, heard the angel message of "good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people" (Luke 2:10). Heavenly intuition led them to Bethlehem, where they found the babe lying in a manger. Many of the villagers listened with awe while the shepherds related the wonderful message which had come to them that night. Then these simple, kindly men returned to their sheep tending "glorifying and praising God" (2:20). Later, Simeon, a spiritually-minded man in Jerusalem, took the child Jesus in his arms, and blessed God for the light and glory which had come into the world.

On page 332 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Christ is the true idea voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness."

Troubles disappear when the true spirit of Christmas is understood, felt, and loved. Abundant health, activity, happiness, and affection are the natural concomitants of the right understanding of God and ever-present Christ, Truth.

The real man, who is God's offspring, His likeness, is spiritual, perfect, eternal. God's thoughts, or ideas, are imbued with His power and goodness. They are pure, life-giving, and ennobling. Truth, Life, and Love are real, incorruptible substance. . . . All that is worthy, genuine, and beneficial to men originates in Spirit, God. Strength, serenity, beauty, dominion, and unhindered activity are divinely established facts of real being. That which claims power to injure, vitiate, and destroy good is nought but the false argument of mortal mind, the supposititious opposite of the one perfect Mind, God. Health, or spiritual wholeness, is God's eternal gift to all His children.

Someone may say: "How happy I could be, if I knew that my loved ones were safe and enjoying the blessings of Christmas! But duty calls them where danger and distress threaten each moment." The spiritual fact is, however, that God's dear love and the power of His Christ are ever present to save, enlighten, and comfort all. Divine Love is never absent, but ever active, meeting each and every need. God is man's only Life; hence man is eternally safe. The unreal mortal concepts of life, happiness, intelligence, and security are powerless, and cannot touch the real, spiritual man.

MOVIE STAR JOINS U.S. NAVY

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of Uncle Sam's Navy in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said, "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the 'chance of a lifetime' which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metalsmiths, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy."

Take a tip from the Old-Timers

TRAVELING around town here, you'll find Buicks that are still in service after six, eight, ten or even more years.

It's worth noting that these sturdy old Buicks are still serving faithfully and well, for several reasons.

They have the same basic type of engine as the sleek 1942 Buick—a rugged, long-lived, extra-efficient valve-in-head, though it is now made better by FIREBALL combustion.

They have the same dependable drive—a stout torque tube encasing a sturdy steel shaft stretching its unbroken length from transmission to rear axle.

Frames are fundamentally the same now as then; brakes, though hydraulic now, use the same, efficient, self-energizing action.

All the factors that make for strength and long life are still present—plus such further advances as all-coil springs, Domite pistons that squeeze more good from gasoline, Compound Carburetion† that spells peak economy with unmatched reserve power.

There's more comfort, more convenience, more beauty, more value in these '42 models.

But what counts is that they're still Buicks—tough, rugged and dependable.

Take a look at what your next car is likely to be up against and ask yourself if that isn't the kind of car it's smart to buy right now.

Antioch Future Farmers Establish War Council

Will Aid Home Defense Work; Sponsor Drive for Scrap Iron

The Antioch Chapter of the Future Farmers of America moved swiftly to meet the demands of the present emergency when the president of the organization, James Jones, appointed a War Council with full powers to undertake or assist with various home defense work.

Already plans are being made to put on a scrap iron drive whereby people of the community may sell their scrap iron and other metals here in Antioch. Arrangements are being worked out whereby the Sheahan Implement store, local International dealer, will truck the iron to nearby cities where the iron will be converted into defense equipment.

Food production is always a major program of this organization and this coming year the program will be stepped up considerably.

The F. F. A. War Council has the following names on its roster:

C. L. Kutil, vocational agriculture instructor as adviser; James Jones, president of the F. F. A.; Wayne Smith, Edward Dunford, Milton Smith, Arnold Bolt, and Alan Thum.
